

Review of Jesus Miracles

By Mary Engquist

Characters—Woody--Charlie---Rocky

Song starts out while they are entering (Sounds of a jungle) 0.-24 secs.

Woody, Charlie, and Rocky are dressed in combat outfits. They have their hands on their foreheads like they are blocking the sun.

Charlie---Okay, Woody, we are here now.

Rocky---Yea, what was the big deal that we had to dress in combat clothes?

Woody----Just hold your horses, will you. Why, we are in a jungle.

Rocky—Yea, in your head!

Woody---Listen up, will you. We are back to the days when Jesus was performing his miracles. We are following Jesus and his disciples.

Charlie---Yes, that is right and now when Healing Bartimaeus, Jesus said to the blind beggar: Receive your sight, your faith has healed you.”

Woody----Immediately he received his sight and followed Jesus, praising God.

Rocky---Oh, yeah, I remember that.

Woody---No, you don't. You missed that day and besides you were not born yet.

Rocky—Who says so? And besides, I do remember! I read it in the Bible. Then there was the nobleman, and how worried he was because his little son lay sick with a burning fever!

Woody---Yea, just like you're going to be if you don't let me run this show.

Charlie—Boys! That is enough now. Woody, let Rocky finish the story.

Rocky---Yea, let me finish telling this story! As soon as the nobleman heard about Jesus, he said to him, "Please master come heal my son."

Charlie---Without Jesus' healing touch, the child might die. Again the nobleman begged,

Rocky--- "Sir, if you do not come at once, my son may be dead before we reach him."

Charlie----But then Jesus looked kindly at the distressed father. He said, "Go back home. Your son lives."

Woody---And then there were more miracles.

Charlie---- Yes, we read about The Samaritan woman at the well who was the first person to whom Jesus openly reveals himself as the Messiah.

Woody----The Jewish leader, Nicodemus, did not hear the words that Jesus tells this foreign woman when she states her belief in the coming Messiah:

Charlie--- “I am he, the one who is speaking to you.”

Rocky---Such great miracles that Jesus preformed but one of the first ones.

Woody---Was it water?

Rocky--- No, it’s wine!

Charlie-----It's a Miracle

Woody--- When Jesus and the disciples went to the wedding in Cana, Mary said to Jesus, “There’s no more wine.” “Please, do something?” Jesus said, “Bring those water pots over here.”

Charlie---The servants did just as he said, they filled up the pots with water, and stood them in front of Jesus.

Woody---“Now,” said Jesus. “Take a cup of the water, and let the master taste it.”

Charlie----The man took a sip. “It’s wine!” he cried.

Rocky---Creation shows the power of God.

Charlie--- There's glory all around.

Woody---And those who see it will stand in awe.

Rocky---For miracles abound.
