

The Echo

This is a great campfire skit. Have three people hidden out in the woods where nobody can see, but where they can be heard.

One character is on stage and speaks a monologue as follows:

Have you guys noticed that this place has an echo to it? Yeah, it does. Listen to this. Hello!!!

(Three voices in the woods say Hello! one at a time - Hello, Hello, Hello)

See? I told you. Let's try another one. This camp is the greatest camp ever!

(Three voices in the woods say one at a time: This camp is the greatest camp ever!)

Here's another one. I like my sandwiches with bologna!

(Three voices in the woods say one at a time: I like my sandwiches with... leaving off the word bologna.)

That was kind of strange, wasn't it? Let's try another one.

James Dugan (insert your name or the name of a camp counselor or something that would be funny here) is a great guy!

(Three voices in the woods say one at a time: Bologna, Bologna, Bologna!)
